M'CARN VOICES CONFIDENCE IN HIS ACQUITTAL

By C. S. ALBERT.

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 17.—Complete confidence in his retention as United States attorney for Hawaii, and a vindication in the courts, was expressed by Jeff McCarn. This optimism followed the conclusion of several conferences with Attorney-General McReynolds, the old and close personal friend of the territorial official.

Mr. McCarn made his statement of faith and firm belief just prior to leaving this city for Nashville, Tenn., where he will visit the scenes of his childhood for two or three weeks. He said it was his intention to be in Honolulu approximately September 15. It was his purpose then to resume his official duties.

The situation regarding the district attorney has been changed little, if any, by his presence in the Capital City. He came and related his own version of all the troubles with which he has been connected. Long before he came Attorney-General McReynolds was committed to a policy of not relieving Mr. McCarn while under fire. It was his desire to await legal developments and the outcome of the complaints being filed by the home folks in Hawaii. The announced return of Mr. McCarn to Honolulu indicates that the attorney-general will have his way and do nothing to embarrass Mr. McCarn at the present time.

After the court proceedings have been terminated the situation will be entirely different. In the event of conviction the usefulness of Mr. McCarn will be concluded and nothing will remain but his retirement. His position will be little different if acquitted. His adaptability as a law officer in the territory will continue questionable so long as he remains in office.

QUEEN IS TODAY CELEBRATING HER 76TH BIRTHDAY

Her Majesty Queen Liliuokalani today is celebrating the 76th anniversary of her birth.

Although the usual public reception in observance of the occasion was postponed for the first time in several years, a large number of friends of the last of the Hawaiian rulers, including many tourists now visiting here, called upon her majesty between 10 o'clock and noon this morning to extend their aloha and well-wishes to the aged lady.

In spite of the burden of the years of more than three-quarters of a century, Liliuokalani today is remarkably hale and hearty, as evidenced by the graceful and cordial manner with which she received her visitors this morning, assisted by Col. Curtis P. Hauke. Although no longer the ruler of a kingdom, she reigns supreme in the hearts of Hawaiian and haole, of kamaaina and malihini alike—a prominent figure in American womanhood.

Today another year is added to the already large number, but Liliuokalani bears it lightly, content, not with a throne, but with the love and friendship of all Hawaii.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

Four deaths from contagious diseases occurred in Honolulu in the last half of August. Of these three were due to tuberculosis and one to typhoid fever, according to the semi-monthly report submitted today by Registrar M. H. Lemon of the board of health.

On the ground that her husband assaulted her with a deadly weapon three years ago, being tried, convicted and sentenced to a term of 5 to 10 years' imprisonment, therefore, Harriet Watson has filed a petition in the circuit court asking a divorce from George Watson. She also asks the custody of the two minor children.

General Carter is minus one automobile. Night before last the machine was left on the road west of town while the chauffeur returned for a new tire. When he returned the car was nothing but ashes and twisted iron.

Circuit Judge Robinson this morning entered a decree in the case of Jose Mendonca v. A. M. Cabrinha and others, a suit involving a bill of foreclosure and the sale of certain properties, in which he gives judgment for the plaintiff in the sum of $2,233.75 as deficiency.

James Lindsay, who told Judge Ashford yesterday morning that he did not know what he had been indicted by the territorial grand jury for, admitted this morning he had learned the nature of the charge, and accordingly entered a plea of not guilty. He is held for a statutory offense. The date for his trial will be fixed later.

Because Attorney W. T. Rawlins had failed to bring into court the right "Ah Sin," neither Ah Sin was brought to trial in Judge Ashford's court this morning, though one of them was scheduled for a jury hearing. Both Chinese, it appears, are held on a charge of having opium illegally in their possession. The wrong Ah Sin was in court, but as the prosecution was not prepared to present its evidence against him he could not be tried. The other Chinese lives at Moiliili, and Rawlins was ordered to produce him in court at 2 o'clock this afternoon, when he was to be given the necessary hearing.

ACHI CONDEMNS RECENT RAISING OF 'RACE ISSUE'

Candidate for Supervisor Says It Is Bound to React—Voters Should Go on Merit

W. C. Achi, Republican candidate for supervisor, last night condemned in no uncertain terms, the raising of the "race issue."

His speech was called forth by the tactics used on the stump by another Republican candidate for supervisor, William M. Ahia, who repeated his appeal to voters made several times previously in the campaign that they should vote for Hawaiians and support Hawaiian candidates because of their color and blood.

"That kind of talk is unfair, it is misleading, and I do not stand for it," declared Achi to a big crowd at the Athletic park political meeting.

"Vote for candidates on their merits, not on the color of their skin. If they are good men, vote for them; if they are not good men, do not vote for them, but let merit decide, not anything else."

"If I cannot be elected to the board because of anything but the color of my skin, I do not want to be elected. I want to run on my merits. I claim that I have those merits. I stand on my record in asking for your support."

Achi, at another meeting last night, also strongly condemned the raising of the race issue. This was Pauoa, and here, as at Athletic park, he declared that it should make no difference to the voters whether the candidates are Hawaiians or haoles—they should be supported for efficiency and ability and not for race or blood or color.

This morning Achi declared that the raising of the race issue has been a very dangerous thing and is bound to react.

"I don't believe in it, or in any other attempt to mislead the voters," he said. "Give the voters the straight facts and let them decide."

With a broadmindedness that has won him many friends, Achi has spoken on a number of times in favor of the candidacy of two of his rivals, Robert Horner and John L. Fleming. He thinks both of them are good men and have business ability that is needed on the board.

Last night's meeting at Athletic park was one of the largest of the campaign. Many hundred people attended. After most of the Republican candidates had spoken, an exhibition of the hula dance was given.

After the dance was over, announcement was made by the chairman, that Delegate Kuhio was going to speak. The people didn't wait to hear him, however, most of them going away.

Republicanism ran high at the meeting and the G. O. P. candidates were well received.

G. O. P. RALLY IN BIJOU THEATER TO BE BIG ONE

Indications are that the rally to be held tonight at the Bijou theater at 7:30 under the auspices of the Kuhio forces will be a large one. Word has been spread broadcast by word of mouth at precinct meetings and by posters issued from Kuhio headquarters in regard to the rally and it is expected that the theater will be packed.

It is the opening gun of a series of rallies arranged through the courtesy of J. C. Cohen and J. H. Magoon, managers of the theater, who have turned the playhouse over to Republican candidates for nightly rallies beginning tonight and continuing until the eve of the primaries.

At Kuhio headquarters early this afternoon it was announced that the Prince and John Wile would make addresses as well as several others still to be selected. It is probable that R. W. Breckons will be among the latter. Breckons was on the slate of speakers but at the time his consent to speak had not been secured. At any rate it is assured that a heavy battery of Kuhio supporters and orators will be on hand and supply some fireworks.

With the same courtesy which prompted the turning over of the Bijou to Republican candidates for rally purposes by Messrs. Cohen and Magoon, Cohen has consented to act as master of ceremonies at all of the meetings and will appear in that capacity tonight. It is the plan of the theater management to give every Republican candidate for public office an opportunity to speak and to this end the following schedule has been arranged:

Tonight—Kuhio meeting.
Sept. 3—Senators' meeting.
Sept. 4—Representatives' meeting.
Sept. 5—Mayors' meeting.
Sept. 6—Supervisors' meeting.
Sept. 7—County officers meeting.
Sept. 8—Rise meeting.

TRIAL JURORS FAVOR LENGTHY MORNING SESSION

After taking a "plebiscite" of the trial jurors in the criminal division which resulted in a unanimous vote in favor of lengthy morning court sessions, eliminating the afternoon sessions, Judge C. W. Ashford announced this morning that beginning tomorrow his court will convene at 9 o'clock and continue until 12:30 p. m. with one or two very brief intermissions, no afternoon sessions to be held.

The seventeen jurors voted as one in favor of the forenoon business and elimination of the afternoon court work. This custom has prevailed in all three divisions of the first circuit the last few years and has been generally favored by the business men as well as the judges, court employees and a few of the attorneys, but the Bar Association recently passed a resolution asking the courts to return to the old system in vogue on the mainland, of two two-hour sessions per day.

Judge Ashford adopted the old system a week or ten days ago, but the overwhelming opposition which was found among the jurors has induced him to change it.

Judge William J. Robinson, of the third division, also announces that when his jury is called again he will put the question up to it, and if the men prefer the lengthy morning session his court will revert to the custom.

HUMANE SOCIETY ALWAYS ON THE JOB IS REPORT

Although there have been no meetings of the Humane Society during the past two months, that the organization continues to carry on its uniform standard of work was evidenced in a report for July and August presented by Miss Lucy Ward, special officer, at a gathering of the members this morning. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Sanford B. Dole, Mrs. L. L. McCandless presided.

During July and August, Miss Ward investigated the cases of 20 children, three of whom were found to be suffering from tuberculosis in an advanced stage. One girl, 11 years old, was found to be in a pitiful condition when visited by the special officer and died two weeks later.

The cases of 59 animals received the attention of the special officer during the past two months. Many of these were horses condemned by the U. S. government as being unfit for service, and which had been purchased by private persons. The weaknesses in these animals were soon brought out, says Miss Ward, when they were put to work over hard roads and deprived of the nourishment furnished by Uncle Sam.

The majority of the cases of children were taken before Judge William L. Whitney's juvenile court, and the rest were turned over to the Children's Welfare Committee. Many of the cases of cruelty to animals were heard before Judge Monsarrat.

Once more the Salvation Army home in Manoa has come to the assistance of the Humane Society by taking into its keeping the little waifs whose cases have come to the attention of Special Officer Miss Ward.

The annual meeting of the Humane Society will be held in the Library of Hawaii the third Wednesday in October, at which time plans are to be laid to broaden the scope of the organization's work.

STATES LEAD THE TERRITORIES IN WARSHIP NAMES

That the territory will have to wait until the names of the states are exhausted before the navy department will take any action on a project to name an American battleship "Hawaii," is the gist of a communication which has been received by the Chamber of Commerce from Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy. The letter was turned over to the committee on maritime affairs and formed the butt of considerable discussion at a meeting of that body yesterday afternoon. The law in this case says that "battleships will not be named after any person, place or thing until all the names of the states are exhausted." The committee, however, passed a resolution that the navy department be requested to inscribe the name "Hawaii" on a cruiser or other war vessel.

In a communication to the committee, Walter F. Frear, former governor of Hawaii and now in Washington, D. C., says that, in the opinion of those who were present at the hearing Hawaii established a strong case during the argument before the engineer board in Washington for the extension of Honolulu harbor. Mr. Frear spoke at the hearing for an hour and a half.

A ruling on the observance of September 12 as an election day by the saloons may be promulgated at a meeting of the liquor license commission, called for 3:30 o'clock next Friday afternoon.

CANDIDATES FOR SUPERVISOR TALK TO THE AD CLUB

This was supervisor day at the Ad Club, and a number of candidates for office spoke at the weekly luncheon. Although present at the invitation of the club, some of the speakers could hardly make themselves heard on account of the hum of conversation around them. The luncheon table was well filled, and courteous attention was not the long suit; or some of those present.

The time limit of five minutes for each speaker was first cut to three and then to two minutes, on account of the number of candidates. Judged on the standard of brevity Robt. Harner made the most impressive speech. "I can promise you all a square deal and a clean administration if elected," said he. His time was 25 seconds flat.

Albion F. Clark thought a business administration was the chief consideration.

"Political roads have cost a million and a half dollars in the last five years," he said, "and what have we to offer tourists now?"

Charles Arnold thought that supervisors should be returned so long as they lived up to the pledges of their party.

"No man knows enough to give Oahu good roads," said W. C. Achi, "but some of us know enough to make intelligent appropriations for them."

John Fleming is open to suggestions. "If you elect me and I don't do right, tell me, and if you have any suggestions to make, make them," was the burden of his talk.

Daniel Logan pointed out that he had experience enough to guarantee an efficient term, having been a former member of the board, and being familiar with six forms of county government in various communities.

"As a member of the ways and means committee of a former board, I refer you to the records, and the records stand for themselves," said the veteran editor.

Lester Petrie thought that efficiency depended largely on familiarity with the duties, and urged the voters to return experienced men.

Ben Hollinger ran a close second to Robert Horner, being only one second more verbose.

William Larsen took a shot at the road question. "Tourists that you are trying to bring here want something besides a smooth trip from Honolulu to Waialua," said the speaker. "I have been everything from a seal poacher in the arctic to a blackbird catcher in the South Pacific, and now in a crazy moment I want to be a supervisor. Vote for me."

J. E. Kekipi said he wasn't much of an orator when using the English language, so he made his talk in Hawaiian.

Others who spoke were W. H. McClellan, Frank Archer, M. C. Pacheco and E. H. F. Wolter.

The Pleasure of Eating---

Yes—but far more important is the effect of food on body and Brain.

Grape-Nuts

Is not only a delightfully appetizing food, but is remarkably rich in nutritive values.

Made from whole wheat and barley, Grape-Nuts retains all the nutrition of these grains, including the mineral salts—phosphate of potash, etc.—so necessary for growth and repair of the delicate brain and nerve tissues, but which are so often lacking in ordinary food.

Ready to eat from the packet with cream or milk.

A ration of Grape-Nuts along with other food helps wonderfully to provide a well-balanced dietary.
